ANNOUNCEMENT FOR 1885.

THE Buffalo City Directory for 1885 contains 71,520 names, or 2,844 more than that of 1884. Estimating 3¼ persons to each name in the Directory, the city has a population of 232,440, as against 223,197 of last year. We have always regarded the estimate of 3¼ persons to each name registered in the Directory as below the average rather than above it, and we are reasonably persuaded that Buffalo can, without extravagance, lay claim to a population of over a quarter of a million of inhabitants. The year past has been a dull one in nearly every department of trade, but the progress of the city has been healthy, and there is nothing either developed or in process of development which is calculated to impair our confidence in the future of Buffalo.

The publishers of the Buffalo City Directory feel satisfied that the present volume is the finest they have produced. While a thoroughly complete Directory is one of the unattainable things, neither intelligent effort nor expense has been spared to make it worthy of The Courier Company's establishment and the public. In its classification, the completeness of its indexing, its typography and binding, it is an improvement on its predecessors, and is as complete a guide to the city, its people and business, as it could well be made. For any of the shortcomings that may be discovered, we can only urge the many obstacles that stand in the way of an exhaustive canvass, and the patrons of the Directory must accept the honesty of the endeavors put forth by publishers and compiler to make the work as full and accurate as possible, at something of its true value. The Directory tells a good story of the rapid rise and progress of Buffalo, and for that we feel that we have reason to be proud of it.

Merchant's Gargling Oil, the Standard Liniment, is good for Man and Beast.

THE BUFFALO CITY DIRECTORY.

A CHAPTER FROM THE OUTLINE HISTORY OF THE COURIER COMPANY'S ESTABLISHMENT AND PUBLICATIONS.

[Taken from the Courier, January, 1885—"Historical Sketches of Buffalo Directories."]

The Buffalo City Directory is published annually by THE COURIER COMPANY, and to the community at large is one of the most valuable products of the establishment. It places the head of every family within hailing distance of every other, so to speak, and even people without families derive a benefit from it to which they may or may not be fairly entitled. Without its interposition we should find ourselves seriously embarrassed in more ways than we can enumerate; and we might as well try to dispense with steam, gas, the postal system or the electric telegraph as to try to get along without the Directory. We could do business and maintain social relations after a fashion, and so, after a fashion, we might travel without steam, grope in the darkness after the sun goes down, and trust our mails to the tedious movements of the stage-coach; but we should find ourselves "cribbed, cabined and confined," and under the pressure of necessity we might learn something of the intrinsic value of this yearly budget of facts and figures. The Directory can scarcely be classed with works of the highest literary merit, but it has excellent materials for the use of the imaginative author and the historical data which enrich its pages are of prime importance. It is, of course, as a guide that it is immediately useful and indispensable; but there is a sentimental side to this matter-of-fact publication, if one cares to study it. It tells of marriages and deaths in an indirect way; it tells of the decay of the old and of the life and activity of the new; of successes and failures; of retirement and promotion, and of the sad gaps in the ranks that are filled up with an almost bewildering promptness. It tells of ambition gratified and of labor unrewarded; its pages show that the artisan of a score of years ago is the capitalist of to-day, and that the millionaire, proud of his wealth a few brief months since, has passed away from the sight of men and with as little formality as would attend the demise of his footman. By a process of cancellation, peculiarly its own, it wipes out every year whole platoons of soldiers of the world, but how admirably does it marshal its reinforcements as they come up, and how promptly does it assign the ever increasing hosts to their proper places in the field of battle. There is a humorous vein running through every well-regulated Directory that ought not to be overlooked; and if it is not well-stocked with dramatic surprises or fails in a greater or less degree to excite painful emotion it is not fairly up to the standard. A complete Directory would almost presuppose the intelligent co-operation of everybody with the compiler and his canvassers; but, all the same, a perfect Directory is not a supposable result, and when old citizens find their names omitted and a new citizen finds them misspelt, they are generally surprised, and their astonishment is likely to be succeeded by a sense of goneness, as if the best part of their lives had passed out of them. If one would philosophize on names and speculate as to their origin and their primary significance, he will find the Directory an invaluable resource; and he will also find the Buffalo City Directory, which is descended from a long and honorable line of Directories, his friend in any of the emergencies sought to be provided against by publications of this kind. The Directory which comes from the press of THE COURIER COMPANY ever year is a legitimate descendant, in an unswerving line, from "A Directory of the Village of Buffalo," published by L. P. Crary, in 1828, and printed by Day, Follett & Haskins. This was the first Directory published in the village and gave the population at 7,000.

For the three years immediately succeeding 1828, the people of the thriving village had to get along as well as they could without the aid of a Directory, but when the village, in its pride, took on the dignities and responsibilities of a city, in 1832, Mr. Crary, although seeing no profit in the venture and being anxious only to be protected against loss, issued "A Directory of the City of Buffalo," and his printers were O. G. Steele and Charles Faxon, whose firm name was Steele & Faxon. An interval of two years now elapsed and in this time the publisher showed no sign. He had sustained an actual loss in his first publications; but in 1835, actuated largely by patriotic motives, and inspired by the fact that Buffalo had come to be familiarly known as "The City of the West," he gave rein to his spirit of enterprise once more, and Charles Faxon printed for publisher Crary his third volume. Death prevented Mr. Crary from compiling the next volume, but his son, who bore his full name, gave to the community an excellent publication in 1836, and Faxon was still the printer. The Directory for 1837 was published by Mrs. Sarah Crary, widow of the original publisher, and printed by Charles Faxon, and the succeeding volume for the year 1838 was published by the younger Crary, already referred to, and was also from the press of Charles Faxon. The Directory for 1839 was published by Faxon & Graves and A. W. Wilgus, the two gentlemen first named being the printers. The volume for 1840 was entitled "Buffalo City Directory," and Faxon & Graves were the publishers and printers, and Horatio N. Walker the compiler. In 1841 the city was supplied with "Crary's Directory for the City of Buffalo;" Faxon & Read, publishers; C. W. Graham, compiler; and Faxon and Graves printers. "Walker's Buffalo City Directory," for 1842, compiled and published by Horatio N. Walker, was issued from "Steele's Press," and was worthy of a municipality which had won for itself the name of "The Queen City of the Lakes." The Directory for 1843 failed to make its appearance; but that for 1844 bore the same title as its immediate predecessor and showed the enterprise of the same publisher. It was printed by Lee & Thorp, and gave the population of the city on the 1st of August of that year, at 26,503, or less than one-eighth of the population properly claimed for Buffalo at the present time. No Directories were issued in 1845 and 1846; but in 1847 appeared "The Commercial Advertiser Directory for the City of Buffalo." It was published by Jewett, Thomas & Co., & T. S. Cutting, the last-named gentleman being the compiler. The volume for 1848, bore the same title and the names of the same publishers, that of T. S. Cutting excepted. This year Mr. Cutting published the "Buffalo City Directory," and the printers were G. Reese & Co.; but after this issue Mr. Cutting disappeared from the field, and "The Commercial Advertiser Directory of the City of Buffalo" was published by the same firm in 1849, '50, 51, '52 and '53. Without change of title, it was published by Thomas & Lathrop in 1855 and 1856; and by their successors, E. R. Jewett & Co., in 1857, and by E. R. Jewett in 1859 and in 1860. R. Wheeler & Co. succeeded to the business of Mr. Jewett, and in 1861 published "The Commercial Advertiser Directory; or Buffalo City Directory." In 1862 it was published by E. A. Thomas and compiled by C. F. S. Thomas. It was published without change of name, publisher or compiler for the four years following; and in 1867 and 1868 it was published by Thomas, Howard & Johnson.

In 1869 Warren, Johnson & Co., proprietors of THE COURIER establishment, became the publishers and named the work "The Buffalo City Directory," by which title it has been known ever since. THE COURIER COMPANY, as the successors to Warren, Johnson & Co., has published the Directory since 1874, and up to and including 1884 this house has published seventeen successive editions. It will have been noticed by the reader that of the fifty-seven years that have elapsed since the first Directory was projected, eight years were allowed to pass without the aid of this publication, thus making a complete set up to date, number forty-nine volumes.

The growth of the Directory has kept pace with the development of the city's resources and advantages, and the rapid increase in its population and the contrast between the Directory of the present and one of twenty or thirty years ago is sharp and strong to an almost incredible degree. In size, classification, beauty of typography and fullness of information, as well as in its large suggestiveness of metropolitan proportions and life The Buffalo City Directory of 1884 is to that of 1832 what the great newspaper of today is to the stupid but well-meaning little sheet of half a century ago—what the lightning express is to the stage coach that was—but whether it reflects any more happiness or wisdom, or honesty, relatively, we cannot positively state, and must refer the question to our brethren of the cloth and other moralists. The Directory traces the growth of Buffalo from the simple village to the great city with its quarter of a million of souls and its multitudinous interests, and with an accuracy that is surprising, when one considers the innumerable obstacles to be overcome by compiler, canvassers and publishers with each succeeding year. Every library ought to have as complete a set as possible of the Directory; every business man in the city should have some statement of his business outside of that accorded to him in the regular classification; and the head of every family should see to it in the proper season that the canvasser who wants his name, residence, business, and place of business is supplied with the simple information he desires.

The publication of the Buffalo City Directory affords employment to a large number of men and women for several months every year. The typographical work, press work, and binding belong to their respective departments in THE COURIER COMPANY'S establishment, and are promptly dealt with in view of the necessity for the production of the volume at the earliest possible day after the 1st of May. The Directory for 1885 will be more complete in every department than any of its predecessors, and neither skill nor money will be spared to make it worthy of its publishers and the great city it represents. With the exception of a single year, Mr. George Whitcomb has been the compiler of The Buffalo City Directory for this house, and, health being spared him, he will doubtless continue to be for many years to come.

BUFFALO

STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY.

EXPLANATION.

It will be noticed that in this Street Directory the names of the streets are set down in alphabetical order, giving the course which they run, according, as near as possible, to the points of the compass, and enumerating all streets which cross the same in the order in which they occur. The streets in the city were renumbered in 1908, and the following method was adopted, to wit: From the starting point of the street, measuring along the line of the street twenty feet; then making No. 1 to the right-hand side, and No. 2 to the left-hand side, and so on, each twenty feet, whether there be a building or a vacancy or a street crossing. The number on one corner has been given, so that a person wishing to find, say, 499 Main Street, on consulting the Street Directory, finds that the right-hand corner of Main and Mohawk is No. 487, consequently, the place he seeks is only a few doors above.

Abbreviations.—N. for North; N. E. for Northeast; N. W. for Northwest; S. for South; S. E. for Southeast; S. W. for Southwest; E. for East; W. for West; Niag. R. for Niagara River; sq. for square; ave. for avenue; al. for alley; rd. for road; fr. for from; pl. for place.

Advertised Letters.

Letters after remaining in this office one week are advertised. Such letters can only be obtained by calling for them as advertised letters, and giving the date of the list. If not claimed within one month thereafter, they are sent to the Dead Letter Office.

Letters not Advertised.

The following classes of letters are not advertised: Drop letters; letters bearing requests to be returned to writers if unclaimed; box letters; letters directed and sent to hotels, and then returned to the post office as unclaimed—being for strangers; letters returned from the Dead Letter Office to writers.

Rates of Postage.

First Class.—Letters, and all other written matter, whether sealed or unsealed, and all other matter sealed, mailed, sewed, tied, or fastened in any manner, so that it cannot be easily examined, two cents per half ounce or fraction thereof. Postal cards one cent each. Postal cards are unmailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the direction, or with anything pasted upon or attached to them.

The rate of postage on first-class matter, on and after July 1, 1885, will be two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof.

On local or drop letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, two cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof.

Second Class.—Only for publishers and news agents.

Third Class.—Printed matter, in unsealed wrappers only (all matter inclosed in sealed envelopes notched on the sides or corners must pay letter rates), one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, which must be fully prepaid. This includes books, circulars, chromos, hand-bills, engravings, lithographs, magazines, music, newspapers, pamphlets, proof-sheets and manuscripts accompanying the same, reproductions by the electric pen, hektograph, metallograph, papyrograph, and, in short, any reproduction upon paper by any process, except hand-writing and the copying press, not in the nature of a personal correspondence. Limit of weight four pounds, except for a single book, which may weigh more. Third-class matter must be fully prepaid or it will not be forwarded.

Fourth Class.—All mailable matter not included in the three preceding classes which is so prepared for mailing as to be easily withdrawn from the wrapper and examined. Rate, one cent per ounce or fraction thereof. Limit of weight four pounds. Full prepayment compulsory.

The rate of postage on newspaper and periodical publications of the second class, when sent by other than the publisher or newsagent, is one cent for each four ounces or fractional part thereof.

Postal Cards.

The postage of one cent each is paid by the stamp impressed on these cards, and no further payment is required. The address may either be written, printed or affixed thereto, at the option of the sender. Anything else attached in any way to a postal card subjects it to letter postage.

Postal Rules.

By act of July 12, 1876, "the sender of any article of third-class mail matter may write his or her name therein, or on the outside thereof, with the word 'from' above or preceding the same; or may write briefly or print on any package the number and names of the articles inclosed." This privilege cannot be held to include the price of such articles, or any writing other than above specified.

A subscriber cannot remail his paper to another without prepayment of postage at transient rates.

Postmasters cannot deliver from their respective offices letters addressed and deliverable from other offices, except in case of letters addressed to discontinued offices nearest the office where such letters are held for delivery,

Money should not be inclosed in an ordinary letter.

Valuable letters should be carried to the Post-office and registered. If money is to be remitted, a Postal Money Order should be obtained.

Money and other valuables sent by mail are at owner's risk.

Head letters with the name of the writer's Post-office and State, street and number. Sign them with full name, and requests that answers be directed accordingly.

It is the duty of the Postmaster at the mailing office, as well as the office of delivery, to carefully examine all printed matter, to see that it is charged with the proper amount of postage, and to detect fraud.

When publishers inclose hand-bills with their newspapers in violation of the law, the Postmaster is required to rate up such packages with letter postage according to the weight of the same, and, if not paid by the party addressed, to return them to the mailing office to prosecute the sender in the penalty of $5 in each case.

Merchant's Gargling Oil, the Standard Liniment, is good for Man or Beast.

No extra postage charge is to be made for a card printed or impressed upon an envelope or wrapper.

The law limits the weight of packages to be sent by mail to four pounds, except books issued by order of Congress.

The persons entitled to receive letters by mail are those whose names are in the address, and delivery should be to the person addressed, or according to his or her order.

Letters addressed to a party deceased can only be delivered to his legal representatives.

Letters addressed to a firm may be delivered to any member thereof.

Drop letters can only be forwarded upon the prepayment of one full letter rate of postage.

THE FOLLOWING ARTICLES ARE UNMAILABLE.

Letters which cannot be forwarded to their destination by reason of illegible or unintelligible superscription.

Letters upon which one full rate of postage has not been prepaid, and those covered by revenue stamps, by stamps previously used, or by stamps cut from stamped envelopes, and packages which exceed four pounds in weight.

BUSINESS LAW IN DAILY USE.

The following compilation of business law contains the essence of a large amount of legal verbiage :

If a note is lost or stolen, it does not release the maker ; he must pay it, if the consideration for which it was given and the amount can be proven.

Notes bear interest only when so stated.

A note made on Sunday is void.

A note by a minor is void.

A note obtained by fraud, or from a person in a state of intoxication, cannot be collected.

"Value received" is usually written in a note, and should be, but is not necessary. If not written, it is presumed by the law, or may be supplied by proof.

The maker of an "Accommodation" bill or note (one for which he has received no consideration, having lent his name or credit for the accommodation of the holder), is not bound to the person accommodated, but is bound to all other parties, precisely as if there was a good consideration.

A note indorsed in blank (the name of the indorser only written) is transferable by delivery, the same as if made payable to bearer.

If the time of payment of a note is not inserted, it is held payable on demand.

The time of payment of a note must not depend upon a contingency. The promise must be absolute.

A bill may be written upon any paper, or substitute for it, either with ink or pencil.

The payee should be distinctly named in the note, unless it is payable to bearer.

An indorsee has a right of action against all whose names were on the bill when he received it.

If the letter containing a protest of non-payment be put in the post-office, any miscarriage does not affect the party giving notice.

Notice of prospect may be sent either to the place of business or residence of the party notified.

The holder of a note may give notice of protest either to all the previous indorsers, or only to one of them; in case of the latter, he must select the last indorser, and the last must give notice to the last before him, and so on. Each indorser must send notice the same day or the day following. Neither Sunday nor legal holiday is to be counted in reckoning the time in which notice is to be given.

The loss of a bill or note is not sufficient excuse for not giving notice of protest.

If two or more persons as partners are jointly liable on a note or bill, due notice to one of them is sufficient.

If a note or bill is transferred as security, or even as payment of a pre-existing debt, the debt revives if the bill or note be dishonored.

An indorsement may be written on the face or back.

An indorser may prevent his own liability to be sued by writing "without recourse," or similiar words.

The finder of negotiable paper, as of all other property, must make reasonable efforts to find the owner before he is entitled to appropriate it for his own purposes. If the finder conceal it, he is liable to the charge of larceny or theft.

Joint payees of a bill or note, who are not partners, must all join in an indorsement.

One may make a note payable to his own order. He must then write his name upon its back or across its face, the same as any other indorser.

After the death of the holder of a bill or note, his executor or administrator may transfer it by his indorsement.

The husband who acquires a right to a bill or note which was given to the wife, either before or after marriage, may indorse it.

A demand note is always valid until presented for payment, after which it comes under the usual laws of outlawry.

An agreement without consideration is void.

Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced.

A contract made with a minor is void.

A contract made with a lunatic is void.

Each individual in a partnership is responsible for the whole amount of the debts of the firm, except in cases of SPECIAL PARTNERSHIP.

The acts of one partner bind all the rest.

A verbal promise to pay, made without conditions, is generally held as sufficient to revive a claim otherwise shut out by the law of limitation.

An oral agreement must be proved by evidence. A written agreement proves itself. The law prefers written to oral evidence, because of its precision.

No evidence may be introduced to CONTRADICT OR VARY a written contract, but it may be received in order to explain it, when such contract is in need of explanation.

Checks or drafts must be presented for payment without unreasonable delay.

Checks or drafts should be presented during business hours ; but in this country, except in the case of banks, the time extends through the day and evening.

If one who holds a check, as payee or otherwise, transfers it to another, he has a right to insist that the check be presented that day, or, at farthest, on the day following.

Merchant's Gargling Oil, the Standard Liniment, is good for Man and Beast.

If the drawee of a check or draft has changed his residence, the holder must use due or reasonable diligence to find him.

If a debtor owes several debts, and pays a sum of money to the creditor, he has a right to designate the particular debt to which the payment shall apply, and the creditor must so appropriate it.

If, when a debt is due, the debtor is out of the state, the "six years" do not begin to run until he returns. If he afterwards leave the state, the time forward counts the same as if he remained in the state.

Except in the case of absence from the state, the "six years" begin when the bill or account is DUE. In case of a note they count from the "three days of grace." In case of a note on demand, they count from the time of the demand.

The statute of limitations does not avoid or cancel the debt, but only provides that no action in law may be maintained after a given time. The statute does not affect collateral security.

The law compels no one to do impossibilities.

Ignorance of the law excuses no one.

It is a fraud to conceal a fraud.

Signatures made with a lead pencil are good in law.

A receipt for money is not always conclusive.

No consideration is sufficient in law if it be ILLEGAL in its nature.

All claims which do not rest upon a SEAL or JUDGMENT must be sued within six years from the time when they arise.

Part payment of a debt which has passed the time of statutory limitation revives the whole debt, and the claim holds good for another period of six years from the date of such partial payment.

Written instruments are to be construed and interpreted by the law according to the simple, customary and natural meaning of the words used.

"Acceptance" applies to bills and not to notes. It is an engagement on the part of the person on whom the bill is drawn to pay it according to its tenor. The usual way is to write across the face of the bill the word "accepted."

A witnessed note does not outlaw for twenty years.

Takes the place of the Ratchet, as it will do all that the latter does, faster, easier and better, besides doing JUST AS GOOD work, and EASIER, in the clear.

We manufacture also the famous BARKER IMPROVED BRACE, and the UNIVERSAL BRACE, which latter is positively the best cheap Brace ever put upon the market.

By adding an attachment at the side of our Ratchet Brace, the adjustment is now worked with remarkable ease and simplicity; and as ours is the most substantial and durable Ratchet in make, the low price lately put upon them at once commends them.

(REGISTERED.)

A NEW AND VERY USEFUL ARTICLE.

The most convenient pocket pencil in existence and one that commends itself to universal popularity for its excellent features. It obviates the necessity of adjusting the lead each time that it is needed for use, as a mere pressure on the top of pencil permits the lead carrier to drop forward to be rigidly fastened between two jaws the same as the lead is clasped in the regular and well known Automatic Pencil. Therefore the pencil is at all times ready for use without the inconvenience of adjusting the lead and thus avoids the soiling of the fingers.
